

Graduate Trainee – Information Pack

Date issued: September 2021

Document reference: 2073A2020-21

Welcome from Ann-Marie Harkin, Executive Director Audit Services

Ann Marie Harkin, Director

Croeso/Welcome

Do you have passion, energy and commitment to improve the lives of the citizens of Wales then a career training as a chartered accountant at Audit Wales, the public sector watchdog for Wales may be what you are looking for!

You will follow a four-year fixed-term graduate training programme to train to become a chartered accountant following the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales (ICAEW). You will work with our teams across Wales, to deliver a variety of audit services and help scrutinise and improve public services.

Who we're looking for

We're genuinely interested in who you are, your strengths and your potential.

Regardless of degree discipline, we're looking for individuals with a very good academic background who are committed to improving public sector services and see themselves as the future leaders within the public sector in Wales.

You will need:

- A 2:1 class degree in any discipline or a 2:2 where you have additional qualifications such as a masters
- Very good academic results at A level or equivalent academic level
- GCSE English language level 4 if 2017 or after / C if before
- GCSE Maths level 5 if 2017 or after / B if before

If you are naturally inquisitive, enjoy teamwork, have an interest in public services and want to train as an accountant then our graduate role is the one for you.

Further information about the skills and abilities required for the role can be found in our job description.

Study package

We provide full financial support for your training to gain membership with the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales (ICAEW). This support includes – membership subscription, tuition/revision, study material, examination entry and travel expenses where applicable.

Network of support

In addition to the support of your peers, you will be allocated:

- a line manager who will not only provide you with general support and guidance but will act as your professional studies counsellor who will have a critical role to play in developing and supporting you throughout your professional studies;
- a buddy to help ease you into your new role as well as providing on-going informal support, introducing you to a social network and being a starting point for general queries; and
- you will get support, encouragement and opportunities to grow. You will join people who are as enthusiastic about your development as you are and who are just as keen to see you do well.

Your role

You will play a part in the audit of over 800 public bodies across Wales, ensuring the work you do makes a real difference to the citizens of Wales. You'll also learn how to establish and maintain good working relationships both internally and externally, whilst studying for your accountancy qualification and being supported in a full learning and development programme.

Every element of an audit contributes to the big picture and your day-to-day work on our graduate programme plays a key part in that.

Your career as an auditor begins as soon as you join us. Alongside the professional qualification training, you'll join audit teams and get hands-on experience with our clients, working with them either from their offices, or virtually, either from home or from one of our offices. You'll need to be a people person, tenacious and resilient.

You'll be doing a range of financial accounts work to check that data is accurate and highlighting and questioning any inaccuracies through regular contact with Finance and other professionals.

Our training programme provides you with the opportunity to work across a wide range of clients, including:

- Welsh Government and associated sponsored bodies
- Health boards
- Local authorities
- Police/fire and rescue services

You'll also get involved with grants certification work, data analytics, governance and value for money work.

While our client base is Wales wide, our staff are based within geographical areas (South Wales, North Wales and West Wales) and are expected to travel to various client offices throughout this geographical area. It's worth noting that due to this geographical spread, you may find it beneficial to be able to drive, making travel between clients more accessible. However, if you can't drive or are unable to due to an impairment, you will be provided with reimbursement for alternative travel arrangements.

You will also learn how to establish and maintain good working relationships both internally and externally. You will do this alongside studying for your accountancy qualification and being supported in a full learning and development programme, which culminates in achieving an ILM level 3 award.

In addition to this, you will have the opportunity to benefit from a secondment within another public sector body where you will be able to gain a greater breadth of direct knowledge and experience of public services in Wales and qualify for a level 3 award from the Institute of Leadership and Management. An excellent steppingstone for your career.

While there is no guarantee of a permanent position at the end of the four-year programme, Audit Wales will provide support and opportunities from across the wider public sector to support your career opportunities. To date, all of our graduate trainees have secured permanent roles in a wide range of organisations across both the public and private sector at the end of their training contracts.

Who we are

We're an organisation that has reach across Wales's entire public sector, auditing public spending of some £19 billion annually. On behalf of the people of Wales, we examine public spending and identify ways to improve public services. Our work supports the effective scrutiny of public money by the Senedd and locally elected representatives, and we are entirely independent of government. Our purpose is to:

- Assure the people of Wales that public money is well managed
- Explain how public money is being used to meet people's needs
- Inspire and empower the Welsh public sector to improve

You can read more about our organisation and our work for the future in our video and also our Annual Plan.

Audit Wales is a fun and friendly place to work, with an incredibly supportive culture and one where we're working hard to truly embed our values and behaviours in all that we do and how we do it.

We embrace diversity in all its forms so welcome applications from people from all backgrounds and with many different skills, experiences and perspectives. This is what helps us to create a GREAT place to work and make an even bigger difference through the work we do across Wales.

We want to strengthen our workforce diversity particularly in terms of people who are black, Asian, or from other ethnic minorities, people with disabilities, people who are carers and people who are LGBT+. Find out more about our approach to diversity and inclusion on our website.

At least three of our graduate roles are Welsh essential but this is not a requirement for all other roles, but there will be lots of opportunities for you to learn Welsh, if you are interested. All appointments will be made on merit against the person specification in this pack.

We're committed to working smarter, we've got great technology that supports us, we're building our coaching skills to empower and inspire each other, and we invest heavily in ongoing learning and development.

Your benefits

We pride ourselves on the pay and benefits we offer, what you can expect are:

- Starting salary competitive £25,300
- Fully paid accountancy training with the Institute of Accountants England and Wales (ICAEW)
- First class accountancy training with an external provider, with exam pass rates above the national average
- Tuition delivered through a block release programme of study
- Fully funded exam leave
- 33 days annual leave (plus public holidays)
- Access to the Civil Service Pension Scheme
- Flexible working with a mix of home and office-based work

Take a look at graduate recruitment web pages for further details of the benefits available.

If this opportunity excites you and you have the right skills, aptitude and motivation, we want to hear from you. Call my colleague Morgan Vaughan on 02920 320519 if you'd like to chat to us before you apply.

All the best,

Ann-Marie

General

Confidentiality and Information Security

The post holder must, at all times, be aware of the importance of maintaining confidentiality and security of information gained during the course of their duties. This will, in many cases, include access to personal information relating to service users. The post holder must treat all information, whether corporate or client, in a discreet and confidential manner in accordance with the provisions of the Data Protection Act 1998 and organisational policy. Any breach of such confidentiality is considered a serious disciplinary offence, which is liable to dismissal and/or prosecution under current statutory legislation (Data Protection Act) and Audit Wales Disciplinary Policy.

Equality

The Public Sector Equality Duty in Wales places a positive duty on public bodies to promote equality for people with protected characteristics, both as an employer and as a provider of public services. There are nine protected characteristics: age; disability; gender reassignment; marriage and civil partnership; pregnancy and maternity; race; religion or belief; sex and sexual orientation. Audit Wales is committed to ensuring that no job applicant or employee receives less favourable treatment on any of the above grounds. To this end, the organisation has an Equality Policy and it is for each employee to contribute to its success.

Health and Safety

All employees of the organisation have a statutory duty of care for their own personal safety and that of others who may be affected by their acts or omissions. The post holder is required to co-operate with management to enable the organisation to meet its own legal duties and to report any hazardous situations or defective equipment. The post holder must adhere to the organisation's Risk Management, Health and Safety, and associated policies.

Security Checks

All employees are subject to baseline security checks as part of their pre-employment check. These checks include proof of identity and qualifications. In addition, all mobile staff are subject to security vetting arrangements to CTC (counter terrorist check) security level.

Dignity at Work

The organisation condemns all forms of bullying and harassment and is actively seeking to promote a workplace where employees are treated fairly and with dignity and respect without bias. All staff are requested to report any form of bullying and harassment to their Line Manager or to any Director of the organisation. Any inappropriate behaviour inside the workplace will not be tolerated and will be treated as a serious matter under the Audit Wales Dignity at Work policy.

How to apply

We only accept applications through our online portal, we do not accept CVs, but if you need us to consider a reasonable adjustment to ensure you can apply on a level playing field with others, please let us know in good time.

When completing your application

Ensure you familiarise yourself with the Job Description and the Person Specification, so you understand the role and what are the essential qualifications, skills and attributes are. We are looking for how your studies and/or previous work experience or outside interests makes you suitable for this role.

Please note – the application form will be used to sift all applicants. Therefore, please ensure you complete all sections of the application form in particular confirm that you provide details of all necessary essential academic qualifications for this role. Failure to demonstrate you have the minimum academic requirements for the role may result in you being sifted out of the process.

We operate a four-stage selection process. Only one application per recruitment round is permitted.

Selection Process

Application

Using the application form to apply we are looking for evidence of:

- your current qualifications meeting the minimum standard; and
- your current and past studies or previous experience to show you are suitable to complete audit work.

In your personal statement we are looking of evidence of the following:

- Be committed to working within the public sector in Wales
- Be naturally inquisitive, confident to challenge and to be challenged but in a professional manner
- Be able to show excellent attention to detail while being able to see the bigger picture
- Be able to demonstrate excellent communication skills, both verbal and written
- Be able to demonstrate good questioning and listening skills
- Be able to demonstrate resilience to balance the demands of working alongside professional training
- Be able to demonstrate good interpersonal skills with a team working ethos; and
- Be able to demonstrate motivation and commitment to become an accountant.

Given the ongoing pandemic situation and the possibility of continuing restrictions, Audit Wales reserves the right to amend the recruitment process to ensure we ensure the health and safety of our staff and applicants.

Application closing date 30 June 2022

Stage 1: online application

We will initially review your application to ensure it matches our academic requirements.

If you meet the academic requirements, we will assess your personal statement.

We are looking for candidates to tell us a little about themselves and the skills and experiences they have and how those will help them in the trainee role. We want to see evidence of your commitment to the public sector and to earning and learning as a trainee accountant.

If you use examples these can be from (but are not limited to) your time at university/school, work experience such as part-time jobs at school or university, or any extracurricular activities you've been involved in.

We are always impressed by people who are enthusiastic about the work of Audit Wales and how they feel they can contribute to it, so we would encourage you to do some research and think about how you picture yourself working with us.

Once completed, your personal statement is marked by our trained screeners. If you meet the minimum mark required, you will be progressed to Stage 2.

Tip: The personal statement allows you to write up to 1000 words. While we don't expect you to necessarily use all of the word allowance those statements that are particularly short are unlikely to convey all of the information, we are looking for so think carefully about this. The application form is your opportunity to sell yourself and set yourself apart from other applicants.

At this point we will also invite you to complete online psychometric tests.

Tip: We recommend you do at least one practice of each test first before completing the tests. This will give you a feel for the types of questions asked and how long they will take you to answer. It's a great way to prepare, helping you relax and perform to the best of your ability.

Stage 2: assessment centre

This will involve a number of individual and group exercises where you are assessed against the job description/person specification and the values and behaviours.

Further details regarding the assessment centre will be provided if you are invited to attend.

If you are successful at the assessment centre, you will be invited to stage 3 of the assessment process.

Stage 3: interview and presentation

The final interview is a panel-based interview which will also provide you with the perfect opportunity to ask us any questions about our organisation and the training programme.

Stage 4: offer

Successful applicants will have performed well in all aspects of the assessment process.

If you are successful, we will make you an offer conditional upon a number of pre-employment checks including security and verification of your academic grades entered on your application.

Feedback will only be provided if you attend an assessment centre.
